

University Assist Training Program

MSC.Software is pleased to announce our new university training program exclusively for our North American academic customers – the University Assist Training Program.

These on-site or web-based training workshops are directed towards Students, Professors and Faculty that want to enhance the way they use MSC.Software, including: Patran, Nastran, Adams and the upcoming SimXpert!

Training Offerings:

- » On-site Training - Brings our engineers right to your university to discuss topics that interest you! Faculty and students receive a half day or full day workshop to learn how they can expand how to use our software!
- » Interactive Customizable Webinar - Allows you to pick a topic for our engineers to give an hour -long webcast to solve your problems! Also, join in on our monthly academic webinars from leading educators throughout the nation!
- » Online Class - Take advantage of the training that our commercial customers receive over a 3-5 day interactive class!

MSC.Software wants to put the tools of the real world in-place for every student and educator. Please join our goal by sponsoring a visit to your university!
