Welcome New Partners!

MSC welcomed 13 new partners in 2011. This number exceeded our growth expectations for our Partner Program and we look forward to the contributions of our newest as well as our long-term partners. Visit our Technology Partner web site to learn about some of our partners and our program benefits.

Our newest official partner, Sigmadyne, Inc., specializes in opto-mechanical finite element analysis of precision optical systems. Their custom software, SigFit, allows users to transform results from mechanical finite element analyses into result import formats for popular optical analysis tools.

Announcements

2012 EMEA Business Partner Summit May 3-4 Istanbul, Turkey

This year's Business Partner Summit is targeted for MSC's Europe, Middle East, and African distributors and will provide them with the latest information from MSC needed to supercharge their sales efforts. MSC's Technology Partners are welcome to be considered for a select number of invitations to exhibit at this event. For more information, or to be considered for an invitation, please contact Eddy Fadel, EMEA Channel Director.
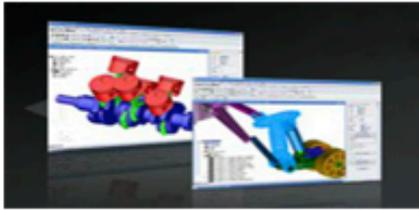

MSC Nastran 2012 is Here!

This comprehensive release consolidates MSC Nastran and MD Nastran into a single solution for all MD and MSC Nastran customers. This simplifies the product offering and provides customers a single MSC Nastran platform for the future. We've done the same with Adams, and we've converged our token systems in to MasterKey Plus.

MSC Software Announces New Release of Patran

The 2012 release of Patran became available for download for our partners and customers in early February! The new version provides engineers with significant modeling productivity.
